

THE INBOX EVERYONE RECOGNIZES

Your LinkedIn inbox is overflowing.

Send three words before the automated pitch arrives.

PREDEFINED STEPS

Traditional sequencers are linear.

THE PLANNED PATH

Inbound reply

Pause or end

Many outreach tools can pause or end a sequence when a reply arrives. That stop condition is the opportunity.

THREE STEPS

Triage. Approve. Say it first.

01 • TRIAGE

Review the queue

Read the profile, headline, invitation note and previous conversation.

relevant • unclear • spam
no action yet

02 • APPROVE

You make the call

Accept the right people. Decline spam. Hold unclear requests.

03 • MESSAGE

After acceptance, start with one neutral message and no pitch.

READ BEFORE YOU TOUCH

Give the agent the boring part.

01 Profile and headline

02 Invitation note

03 Previous conversation

RELEVANT

A plausible person you want in your network.

UNCLEAR

Not enough evidence. Keep it for review.

SPAM

Obvious noise. Recommend decline.

Decline

No surprise actions. Preview the recommendation. Approve the selected people. Then execute only that selection.

THREE WORDS. NO PITCH.

Say it first.

Nice to connect.

sent after acceptance

SHORT

Nothing to decode.

NEUTRAL

No fake personalization.

EXACT

No agent improvisation.

CHANGE THE CONVERSATION STATE

Do not out-sequence them. Reply first.

01

Their connection request arrives

02

You accept the selected request

03

“Nice to connect.”

04

Their next automated pitch may pause

Crispy reacts to the live Inbox. When the sender's tool is configured to pause or end on reply, your message can stop the remaining steps. Either way, you opened a real conversation.

PROMPT YOUR AGENT

Use this as written.

> Review my incoming LinkedIn connection requests.

For each person, show their name, headline, invitation note, previous conversation and your accept, decline or review recommendation.

Do not take action until I approve.

After I approve, accept only the selected people and send each exactly: "Nice to connect."

Skip anyone with an existing conversation or suppression.

Save this for the next inbox cleanup.
